

CONFESSES MURDER OF EARL BEHRENS

ELIMINATION OF CROSSINGS IS REQUESTED

N. & W. Submits Safety Plans To City Council For Approval.

Elimination of two crossings in return for the construction of a new alley and of a paved street was asked of the Circleville city council Wednesday night by the Norfolk & Western railroad.

These proposals were part of a plan presented by C. E. Armstrong, assistant engineer of the railroad, for the placing of wig-wag signals at all railroad crossings in the city, retaining the gates at Court-st. The company contends that the wig-wag system of safety signals will give 24 hours a day protection at all crossings.

PLANS NEW ALLEY

Mr. Armstrong said that the N. & W. desires to abandon a portion of the alley immediately east of Scioto-st. and immediately west of Court-st. north of Huston-st. and that portion of the alley running east and west between Ohio and Huston-st. from Court to Scioto-st. which crosses the company's tracks. In return, Mr. Armstrong said, the company proposes to construct an alley from Court to Scioto-st. which would not cross the tracks.

The company also asked that the alley be abandoned. If it is done, the railroad will construct a brick street from a point immediately north of the crossing to the intersection of Ohio and Scioto-sts. The proposals of the company were referred to a committee of which Mr. Clark, city engineer, is chairman.

NEW SUE PROTEST

The committee on the department of public service was granted further time to consider the request of the Chesapeake and Hocking railroad for the acceptance by the city of the overhead crossings at Main and Mount-sts. and of their maintenance.

An additional petition was presented protesting against the location of the municipal hospital in the north end of the city. It was referred to a committee of the whole of which Mr. Will is chairman.

The finance committee was given the problem of providing additional funds for outdoor relief when Safety Director Cassius Clay reported that appropriations are nearly exhausted.

DEATH TRAILS SPURNED LOVE

Autoist Drives Past Sweet- heart and Kills Her On Street.

NEWARK, O., Feb. 21.—Because of spurned love, Bertram Johnson, 22, auto mechanic, shot and killed Eliza Campbell, 22, and then fatally wounded himself on a street in the heart of the downtown business section here last night.

Johnson died in a hospital here early today.

Crowds on the streets stood horror-stricken as Johnson drove his car in the path of Miss Campbell and pumped five bullets from a revolver into her body. She died instantly.

He then sped away in his car. Chased by policemen because he had run through a red traffic light, he turned the revolver on himself. The nursing police were unaware that he was the murderer of Miss Campbell until they brought him to the hospital.

It was Johnson's second attempt to do away with the lives of himself and the girl. Sunday he drove his car on a railroad track near here and declared that they were going to play there until a train came. Miss Campbell persuaded him at that time to abandon the project and drive her home.

World-Wide Movement Against Evils of Narcotics

The world-wide crusade against the illegal sale and use of narcotics is less than ten years old. Recently, Narcotic Education Week was instituted. The World Conference girded on its armor to defeat the monster, DOPE.

There is a concerted movement in the United States to eradicate "dope." But there are many nations which, because of selfish commercial reasons, will not cooperate. These nations either grow the opium poppy or the coca leaf, or are engaged in the manufacture of opium derivatives. This state of affairs is the most serious question confronting the world.

The League of Nations is investigating and has been for five years. Only through public opinion and the pressure of active crusaders can the League be brought to a realization of the dope question.

Captain Richmond P. Hobson, the Right Rev. James H. Darling, and His Excellency, the Earl of Arundel, acting for the world, are among the leaders of the movement.

7350 Autos In County In 1928

Pickaway-co residents owned a total of 7350 automobiles in the year 1928, according to a report issued by County Auditor Bryce Briggs.

The automobiles in Circleville amounted to nearly half those owned in the county, exclusive of the villages, which totalled 4385. The number in Circleville was 2,011.

In other communities the automobiles owned in 1928 were as follows: Williamsport, 164; Ashville, 363; South Bloomfield, 61; Darbyville, 37; New Holland, 178; Turlington, 78; and Commercial Point, 73.

MORE DEATHS THAN BIRTHS IN JANUARY

Deaths exceeded births by 15 in Pickaway-co during the month of January, according to a report announced Thursday by Dr. G. W. Heffner, county health commissioner. There were 47 deaths of which 14 occurred at the feeble-minded institute at Orient, and 29 births.

Of the deaths, 21 occurred from influenza and pneumonia or their complications. Of the births 13 were boys and 16 were girls.

Among the infectious or contagious diseases listed in the county during the month of January there were 7 cases of diphtheria; four cases of chicken pox; 15 cases of scarlet fever; 12 cases of pneumonia; two of whooping cough; and one of pulmonary tuberculosis.

UNDER QUARANTINE

Max Sark, 5, and Martha Jane Sark, 3, are quarantined at the home of their parents in Walnut-st., suffering from scarlet fever. George Nell, 3, of Jackson-st. is ill with diphtheria.

MRS. PICKENS ILL

Mrs. Robert Pickens is ill at her home on W. Ohio-st. She is 91 years old and her condition is considered critical.

DOZEN TEAMS RESUME PLAY IN TITLE TILT

Four Hard Fought Contests Are Expected Tonight At C. A. C. Gym.

With six teams remaining in each of the boys' and girls' divisions, play will be resumed in the annual Pickaway-co basketball tournament Thursday night at the C. A. C. gym and will continue through Friday and Saturday nights until champions are determined.

Walnut, Pickaway and Perry each have both their teams in the running. Monroe, New Holland and Saltcreek boys are still undefeated and Jackson, Ashville and Scioto girls are also unbeaten.

Some splendid and hard fought games are in prospect for Thursday night when Pickaway meets the Walnut boys; Walnut plays the Perry girls; Monroe battles the Perry boys and Ashville girls clash with the Jackson sextet.

Friday night the winner of the Pickaway-Walnut scramble plays Saltcreek for the right to enter the boys' finals Saturday night. New Holland will clash Friday with the winner of the Monroe-Perry mix-up for the same right.

FINALS SATURDAY

The two girls' games Friday night will determine which teams will play in the finals Saturday night. The first game will be between the winner of Walnut-Perry game and Pickaway. The second contest will be between Scioto and the winner of the Ashville-Jackson battle.

In addition to the games a Thursday night to determine the first and second places in both the boys' and girls' tournaments, a third game will be played between the two boys' teams, which were eliminated in the semi-final round, to determine third place in the boys' tournament. First, second and third places will go to Delaware. They and the two winning girls' teams will each receive silver trophy cups.

Boy, 3 Girl, 4, Found "Jingled"

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The whoopee age grows younger. A boy, three years old, and his baby girl-friend, 4, were pronounced intoxicated by a hospital physician and sent to the alcoholic ward of Bellevue hospital for treatment.

A patrolman found the babies staggering along an upper east side street. The officer sent for an ambulance.

A frightened mother who had left the boy with a neighbor claimed both children. She could not explain where they obtained liquor.

REPORTED SALE OF STORE ERRONEOUS

The report that the Crist department store has been sold to a group of town concern is entirely erroneous and without foundation, and no change of this kind has ever been considered, according to W. E. Crist.

The rumor possibly started by a certain kind of sale called Marshall Field and Co. Combination double X sales which Crist's have been using lately along with an association of other stores over the country. Each week merchandise from Marshall Field in Chicago is sold on this sale plan, giving customers unusual values. Mr. Crist said.

The rumor of the sale of the Crist store had reached the point where shoppers have asked where the store was going to be closed. Thus do other stories of all kinds originate from the most innocent of sources.

OFFICER SEALL IS INJURED IN FALL

John Seall, night watchman, slipped as he was crossing Court-st. at Franklin-st. Wednesday night and fell, spraining his ankle and one arm. Officer Fitzpatrick took him to his home on W. Union-st.

Although the injuries were not considered serious, Mr. Seall was suffering Thursday and was confined to his bed. The accident happened about 11:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

Girl Who Will Marry Lindbergh

More quiet and retiring than her famous fiancé, little is known of the inscrutable Miss Anne Spencer Morrow (left), who, by her engagement to Colonel Charles Lindbergh, realized the secret ambition of many thousands of American girls. The sketch shows Miss Morrow writing the famous poem that appears in the photo at right, as it looked in the Smith College Year Book. Her fellow students hardly knew who she was, so quietly did she go about.

Joy Day Song

Ivy we plant, remembering these,
All beauties here we prize:
Purple of hill and bare black boughs
Against December skies.

Four of trailing willow lace,
Reverently we name
And white April burning out
In chestnut-candle flame.

Patterned on a twilight slope,
Shadows on the grass
And after dark along the walks
Laughter and steps that pass.

Not ours alone, we leave to you
Shadows and hills and trees.
We plant the ivy here today
Remembering these.

4TH CONVICT IS CAPTURED

Second Fleeing Prisoner Is Caught Near Shadeville Wednesday.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 21.—With the capture of William Young, 40, Marietta murderer, four of the five convicts that early Tuesday escaped from the Ohio State penitentiary were back in that institution today, all in solitary confinement.

Young was captured near Shadeville about 8 o'clock last night by Constable John Guy and another officer. When taken into custody, the prisoner's foot was frozen and he was in such a miserable condition that he begged the officers to shoot him. He said "Just put a bullet through my head and do me a favor."

The arrest of Young leaves only James Walton, Cleveland robber, who is believed to have been the "brains" of the plot in the jail delivery, at large.

Pat McDermott, "life-terminer" and "trigger man" in the Don Mellett murder and Mike Jacko, Cleveland murderer, were taken by authorities the same night they escaped. Joe Russo, Cleveland robber was captured early yesterday near the same spot that the Marietta murderer was found.

Young, when taken into custody, refused to talk, but when police told him that Russo had been seized, he told how he and Russo had "laid low" all day Tuesday and that night broke into the store at Hartman farm from where they were driven by the revolver shots of the proprietor.

The convict told how he had hid out all day yesterday and then tried to move on last night but walked into the police net.

He related he had only ice cream to eat since he had "flown the coop" early Tuesday. The man blamed "bad breaks" for his capture.

He told the officers he had attempted to stop a car on the Columbus-Chillicothe highway, but that the occupants brushed him off.

BOY DENIES THEFT OF COSTLOW AUTO

Benjamin Haddock, 17, son of William Haddock, residing south of Circleville, pleaded guilty when brought before Judge E. A. Brown on Wednesday to a charge of automobile theft. The boy was arrested in company with Harry Sweyer, 21, held to the grand jury under $1000 bond from the court of Mayor B. T. Hedges.

The pair was charged with stealing the Ford sedan of J. W. Costlow. The trial of Haddock was set for Wednesday, Feb. 21, at 10 a. m. He was released under $300 bond. C. A. Weldon is his attorney.

Lindy Was Every Girl's Beau But Nobody's Sweetheart Until—

By DAVID P. SENTER
(Copyright, 1929, by International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The Lindbergh is engaged.

This girl-shy prince of aviators fell without a parachute for Anne Morrow, quiet, dark-eyed, pretty daughter of a famous diplomat.

The news, from shopgirl to debutante, came as a shock. Their Lindy, their storybook idol—engaged.

Of course, they wished him and his fiancée the very best of luck but—

Lindy was the stuff girlhood dreams were made of—not marriages. He was to be wished for—not attained. He was the silver lining in those clouds that drift sweetly over a schoolgirl in her doldrums.

Yes, Lindy was something inspiring that flew over your head. Lindy was Hope dancing on the tip of your golden arrow.

Lindy was every girl's beau but nobody's sweetheart—so they thought.

Lindy was a boy—a lad with wind-tousled locks, a sailor's blue eyes, a four-square chin, a good-looking boy—now he was to become a man.

To the shop-girl, Lindy was the boyfriend. The clearest, serious-with-a-dimple, climb-the-ladder boyfriend. Always just around the corner, the type so easy to think about but so hard to catch.

To the stenographer and housegirl, Lindy was their flying prince who came a-courting in his silvery aeroplane, swooping down from the sun. Or on a moonlight night, he scooped them and their romanticking hearts into his mechanical eagle and skimmed among the stars with them.

To the society girl, Lindy was what everybody wanted, whom everybody talked about. Lindy was better than a foreign count—or a duke—as good as the Prince of Wales.

From shopgirl to debutante, Lindbergh spelled Romance.

And of the boys—it was Lindbergh who taught the young of the country to look upward. No more wanting to be a Jesse James.

"I want to be like Lindy when I grow up, mother."

A real boy's hero.

Even American mothers sighed wistfully at sight of Lindbergh's well-known photograph. He made them all feel younger.

And to American manhood, Lindbergh was a symbol of America. An immigrant's son, idolized by the world through his courage and modesty. Who dined with kings and walked with queens. It just showed you where you could get in this country. And such a nice kid, too.

A kid? A hero? A symbol of romance? Soon to be a married man.

We shall see. Lindy has done so many things nobody ever did before—

So married or not he may still be Lindy to shopgirl and school-boy.

14 PERSONS DIE IN FIRE

Two Mothers and Eight Children Perish When Homes Burn.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 21.—Ten persons, including two mothers and their eight children were burned to death when fire destroyed a home in Carrolltown, near here and another in Hillsboro, near Johnstown, early today.

Mrs. Mary Smelzer Mangold lost her life at Carrolltown with her five children whom she tried unsuccessfully to rescue. At Hillsboro, Mrs. Emma E. Berkey, 27, and her three children, the oldest four years of age, died when an overheated stove turned their two room frame house into an inferno of flame. In both instances the fathers escaped.

The dead:

At Carrolltown, Pa.:—Mrs. Mary Smelzer Mangold; Paul Mangold, 6; Mary Frances Mangold, 4; May Grace Mangold, 3; Regis Mangold, 2; Bobby Mangold, 8 months.

At Hillsboro, Pa.:—Mrs. Emma E. Berkey, 27; Mervin Berkey, 4; Merna Berkey, 3; Melroy Berkey, six months.

Leo Mangold, husband and father of the Carrolltown victims, was aroused from his sleep by men enroute to work and escaped before the house was destroyed. The mother ran to the second floor room where the children slept and died in an effort to rescue them.

Zenas Berkey, 28, husband and father of the Hillsboro victims was burned in an effort to save his family, but will recover. He ran for help, which arrived too late to save the four.

CHILDREN DIE

LANSING, Ill., Feb. 21.—Four children of Mr. and Mrs. John Ooms were burned to death in their home near here early today. The parents and two other children were so seriously burned that they may die.

Firemen found Ooms and his wife unconscious in the front yard of their burning home. Two children lay nearby. The bodies of four other children were found in the ruins.

FIRST DEGREE CHARGE FACES KENTUCKY BOY

Albert Burchett Tells How He Fired on Hijacking Expedition.

Albert Burchett, 23, formerly of Lawrence-co, Ky., faces a charge of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Earl Behrens, Lancaster, who was shot when he and three companions attempted to hijack a cache of liquor early Monday morning on Brimstone creek, Hocking-co, three miles south of Adelphi.

The charge was filed against Burchett Thursday morning by Prosecutor Phil A. Henderson, of Logan, in the court of Justice E. E. Bright following the writing of a confession by Burchett in which it is said he took full responsibility for the shooting.

Burchett admitted his guilt Wednesday just before second degree murder charges were to be filed against him, Clayton Huston, Brimstone creek, with whom he resided; William Stewart, same creek, and Elmer Danner, who resides three miles southeast of Circleville.

TWO OTHERS HELD

Thursday morning he made a more complete confession in writing which exonerated Stewart, who was to be released Thursday afternoon from the Hocking-co jail. Huston and Danner, Huston, however is being held to face a charge of selling intoxicating liquor, also Danner faces an undecided charge as the result of being named by Burchett as the man who helped him hide the body of Behrens.

Mrs. Elsie Justice, Shannan Lowry and Lloyd Rigby, all of Circleville, who were at the Huston home at the time of the shooting and Louis Waitaker, Ohio, who was at the time of the shooting on his ill-fated expedition, who had been held as material witnesses, were released late Wednesday by Hocking-co authorities.

According to Burchett's reported confession, which is said to have linked him and Huston to illicit liquor operations, the accused man followed Behrens and his three companions up the ravine in the rear of Huston's home early Monday morning.

HUSTON FLEES SCENE

When the four men stopped, Burchett, said, he opened fire with two .32 calibre revolvers, which were later found by officers in Huston's home. After firing all of the shots in the two guns, he reloaded one of them and fired several more shots, he confessed. Three men fled and when he went to the spot where they had been standing he found the body of Behrens, Burchett told Prosecutor Henderson.

Burchett said he went back to the Huston home and summoned the Danner, who had come to the Huston home to repair an automobile, and Huston. When Huston saw the body of Behrens, he fled, Burchett declared, and Danner helped him to hide the body on the opposite side of the hill.

Burchett will be arraigned before Justice Bright Friday morning, Prosecutor Henderson said.

MOTORS KICK BACK, 2 ARMS IN SLINGS

Cold weather and balky motors have combined to force two men to wear their arms in slings. Gale Linton, Pickaway-twp., suffered the fracture of his right wrist when an auto he was cranking backfired. Lindsey Rowe, of Jackson-twp., a driver for the state highway department, suffered a fractured right forearm while cranking a truck engine. Both injured men were attended by Dr. D. V. Court-right.

RECORD SNOWFALL SHROUDING TOWN

The snow which covered Circleville Thursday at noon was 5 1/2 inches deep, probably a record for recent years. There has been more snow this winter than any year since 1917. Wednesday morning the temperature was one degree below zero and mounted to only 27 during the day. Thursday started with 13 degrees at 7 a. m. and went above freezing during the day.

A wet snow began Thursday morning and turned into sleet rain by one o'clock. Another freeze Thursday night is forecast.

CONFESSES MURDER OF EARL BEHRENS

ELIMINATION OF CROSSINGS IS REQUESTED

N. & W. Submits Safety Plans
To City Council For Approval.

Elimination of two crossings in return for the construction of a new alley and of a paved street was asked of the Circleville city council Wednesday night by the Norfolk & Western railroad.

These proposals were part of a plan presented by C. E. Armstrong, assistant engineer of the railroad, for the placing of wig-wag signals at all railroad crossings in the city, retaining the gates at Court-st. The company intends that the wig-wag system of safety signals will give 24 hours a day protection at all crossings.

PLANS NEW ALLEY

Mr. Armstrong said that the N. & W. desires to abandon a portion of the alley immediately east of Scioto-st and immediately west of Court-st, north of Huston-st, and also that portion of the alley running east and west between Ohio and Huston-sts from Court to Scioto-st, which crosses the company's tracks. In return, Mr. Armstrong said, the company proposes to construct an alley from Court to Scioto-st which would not cross the tracks. The company also asked that the crossing at the south end of the alley be abandoned. If this is done, the railroad will construct a brick street from a point immediately north of the crossing to the intersection of Ohio and Scioto-sts. The proposals of the company were referred to a committee of which Clerk Will is chairman.

NEW SITE PROTEST

The committee on the department of public service was granted further time to consider the request of the Chesapeake and Hocking railroad for the acceptance by the city of the overhead crossings at Main and Mount-sts and of their maintenance. An additional petition was presented protesting against the location of the municipal hospital in the north end of the city. It was referred to a committee of the whole of which Mr. Will is chairman.

The finance committee was given the problem of providing additional funds for outdoor relief when Safety Director Cassius Clay reported that appropriations are nearly exhausted.

In his call to the people of the United States, Captain Hobson, leader of the world-wide crusade against "dope" of all kinds, calls attention to the Rothstein murder case in New York which brought to public notice an international narcotic ring of immense ramifications.

The organization especially seeks the enactment of uniform narcotic laws by all nations, and the passage by the United States Senate of a resolution to legalize an inquiry into the narcotic situation. Attention has repeatedly been called to the addiction to drugs among children who are made addicts by dope peddlers who infest school neighborhoods and ply their horrible trade. Heroin and cocaine are the principal drugs offered to children, and Bishop Darlington warns all parents to be on the lookout.

ANCIENT FIRE ENGINE USED

Old Steam Apparatus Is Cal-
ed Into Service at London Blaze.

LONDON, O., Feb. 20.—Damage in the fire which destroyed two buildings in the business district here and which resulted in the serious injury to a volunteer fireman, was estimated at $200,000 today.

The fire started at 4 a. m. from an undetermined cause in either the Edwards Chevrolet agency or Bardon's clothing store. It spread into London firemen asked for help from Springfield and Columbus, when their pumping engine broke.

Each city sent one company and the combined forces attacked the fire, which had by that time destroyed the Edwards and Bardon establishments and had spread to the three-story Farrar building adjoining. This building, housing the Anderson & Hughes hardware store, the rooms of the Masonic and Eastern Star Lodges and the American Legion, also was razed. Lodge records dating back 75 years were lost.

Offices of the Madison County Finance Co. and the Ohio National Insurance Co., in the Riley building, where the fire started, also were destroyed.

The injured man is John Riley, aged 35, who suffered a broken back when he was knocked from a ladder by the force of water turned into a fire hose which he held at the second story of one of the burning buildings.

Probable additional serious damage was averted while awaiting the arrival of the Columbus fire fighters with the resurrection of London's old steam engine, "The Belle of London," after the regular engine broke down. The old steam engine was dragged to the scene with a team of horses and despite its 60 years of service, responded to the task.

Attorney Paul Adkins was a business visitor in Columbus on Wednesday.

Joe Russo, Cleveland robber was captured early yesterday near the same spot that the Marietta murderer was found. Young, when taken into custody, refused to talk, but when police told him that Russo had been seized, he told how he and Russo had "laid low" all day Tuesday and that night broke into the store at Hartman farm from where they were driven by the revolver shots of the proprietor.

The convict told how he had hid out all day yesterday and then tried to move on last night but walked into the police net. He related he had only ice cream to eat since he had "frown the coop" early Tuesday. The man blamed "bad breaks" for his capture.

He told the officers he had attempted to stop a car on the Columbus-Chillicothe highway, but that the occupants brushed him off.

BOY DENIES THEFT OF COSTLOW AUTO

Benjamin Haddock, 17, son of William Haddock, residing south of Circleville, pleaded not guilty when brought before Juvenile Judge E. A. Brown on Wednesday to a charge of automobile stealing. The boy was arrested in company with Harry Sweyer, 21, held to the grand jury under $1000 bond from the court of Mayor B. T. Hedges.

The pair was charged with stealing the Ford sedan of J. W. Costlow. The trial of Haddock was set for Wednesday, Feb. 21, at 10 a. m. He was released under $300 bond. C. A. Weldon is his attorney.

Lindy Was Every Girl's Beau But Nobody's Sweetheart Until—

By DAVID P. SENTER
(Copyright, 1929, by International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The Lindberghs are engaged.

This girl-shy prince of aviators fell without a parachute for Anne Morrow, quiet, dark-eyed, pretty daughter of a famous diplomat.

The news, from shopgirl to debutante, came as a shock. Their Lindy, their storybook idol—engaged.

Of course, they wished him and his fiancée the very best of luck but—

Lindy was the stuff girlhood dreams were made of—not marriages. He was to be wished for—not attained. He was the silver lining in those clouds that drift sweetly over a schoolgirl in her deliriums.

Yes, Lindy was something inspiring that flew over your head. Lindy was Hope dancing on the tip of your golden arrow.

Lindy was every girl's beau but nobody's sweetheart—so they thought.

Lindy was a boy—a lad with wind-tousled locks, a sailor's blue eyes, a four-square chin, a good-looking boy—now he was to become a man.

To the shop-girl, Lindy was the boyfriend. The clean-cut, serious-with-a-dimple, climb-the-ladder boyfriend. Always just around the corner, the type so easy to think about but so hard to catch.

To stenographer and homegirl, Lindy was their flying prince who came a-courting in his silvery aeroplane, swooping down from the sun. Or on a moonlight night, he scooped them and their romantic hearts into his mechanical eagle and skimmed among the stars with them.

To the society girl, Lindy was what everybody wanted, whom everybody talked about. Lindy was better than a foreign count—or a duke—as good as the Prince of Wales.

From shopgirl to debutante, Lindbergh spelled Romance.

And of the boys—it was Lindbergh who taught the young of the country to look upward. No more wanting to be a Jesse James.

"I want to be like Lindy when I grow up, mother."

A real boy's hero.

Even American mothers sighed wistfully at sight of Lindbergh's well-known photograph. He made them all feel younger.

And to American manhood, Lindbergh was a symbol of America. An immigrant's son, idolized by the world through his courage and modesty. Who dined with kings and walked with queens. It just showed you where you could get in this country. And such a nice kid, too.

A kid? A hero? A symbol of romance? Soon to be a married man.

We shall see. Lindy has done so many things nobody ever did before—

So married or not he may still be Lindy to shopgirl and school-boy.

14 PERSONS DIE IN FIRE

Two Mothers and Eight Children
Perish When Homes
Burn.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 21.—Ten persons, including two mothers and their eight children were burned to death when fire destroyed a home in Carrolltown, near here and another in Hillsboro, near Johnstown, early today.

Mrs. Mary Smelzer Mangold lost her life at Carrolltown with her five children whom she tried unsuccessfully to rescue. At Hillsboro, Mrs. Emma E. Berkey, 27, and her three children, the oldest four years of age, died when an overheated stove turned their two room frame house into an inferno of flame. In both instances the fathers escaped.

The dead:

At Carrolltown, Pa.:—Mrs. Mary Smelzer Mangold; Paul Mangold, 6; Mary Frances Mangold, 4; May Grace Mangold, 3; Regis Mangold, 2; Bobby Mangold, 8 months.

At Hillsboro, Pa.:—Mrs. Emma E. Berkey, 27; Mervin Berkey, 4; Merna Berkey, 3; Melroy Berkey, six months.

Leo Mangold, husband and father of the Carrolltown victims, was aroused from his sleep by men enroute to work and escaped before the house was destroyed. The mother ran to the second floor room where the children slept and died in an effort to rescue them.

Zenas Berkey, 28, husband and father of the Hillsboro victims, was burned in an effort to save his family, but will recover. He ran for help, which arrived too late to save the four.

4 CHILDREN DIE

LANSING, Ill., Feb. 21.—Four children of Mr. and Mrs. John Ooms were burned to death in their home near here early today. The parents and two other children were so seriously burned that they may die.

Firemen found Ooms and his wife unconscious in the front yard of their burning home. Two children lay nearby. The bodies of four other children were found in the ruins.

FIRST DEGREE CHARGE FACES KENTUCKY BOY

Albert Burchett Tells How
He Fired on Hijacking Expedition.

Albert Burchett, 23, formerly of Lawrence-co, Ky., faces a charge of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Earl Behrens, Lancaster, who was shot when he and three companions attempted to hijack a cache of liquor early Monday morning on Brimstone creek, Hocking-co, three miles south of Adelphi.

The charge was filed against Burchett Thursday morning by Prosecutor Phil A. Henderson, of Logan, in the court of Justice E. E. Bright following the writing of a confession by Burchett in which it is said he took full responsibility for the shooting.

Burchett admitted his guilt Wednesday just before second degree murder charges were to be filed against him, Clayton Huston, Brimstone creek, with whom he resided; William Stewart, Sams creek, and Elmer Danner, who resides three miles southeast of Circleville.

TWO OTHERS HELD

Thursday morning he made a more complete confession in writing which exonerated Stewart, who was to be released Thursday afternoon from the Hocking-co jail Huston and Danner. Huston, however is being held to face a charge of selling intoxicating liquor, and Danner faces an undecided charge as the result of being named by Burchett as the man who helped him hide the body of Behrens.

Mrs. Elsie Justice, Sherman Lowry and Lloyd Rigby, all of Circleville, who were at the Huston home at the time of the shooting and Louis Whitaker, Obid Walton and Reuben Lindsey, all of Lancaster, companions of Behrens on his ill-fated expedition, who had been held as material witnesses, were released late Wednesday by Hocking-co authorities.

According to Burchett's reported confession, which is said to have linked him and Huston in illicit liquor operations, the accused man followed Behrens and his three companions up the ravine in the rear of Huston's home early Monday morning.

HUSTON FLEES SCENE
When the four men stopped, Burchett, said, he opened fire with two .32 calibre revolvers which were later found by officers in Huston's home. After firing all of the shots in the two guns, he reloaded one of them and fired several more shots, he confessed. Three men fled and when he went to the spot where they had been standing he found the body of Behrens, Burchett told Prosecutor Henderson.

Burchett said he went back to the Huston home and summoned Danner, who had come to the Huston home to repair an automobile, and Huston. When Huston saw the body of Behrens, he fled, Burchett declared, and Danner helped him to hide the body on the opposite side of the hill.

Burchett will be arraigned before Justice Bright Friday morning, Prosecutor Henderson said.

MOTORS KICK BACK; 2 ARMS IN SLINGS

Cold weather and balky motors have combined to force two men to wear their arms in slings. Gale Linton, Pickaway-twp, suffered the fracture of his right wrist when an auto he was cranking back-fired. Lindsey Rowe, of Jackson-twp, a driver for the state highway department, suffered a fractured right forearm while cranking a truck engine. Both injured men were attended by Dr. D. V. Court-right.

RECORD SNOWFALL SHROUDING TOWN

The snow which covered Circleville Thursday at noon was 5 1/2 inches deep, probably a record for recent years. There has been more snow this winter than any year since 1917. Wednesday morning the temperature was one degree below zero and mounted to only 27 during the day. Thursday started with 13 degrees at 7 a. m. and went above freezing during the day.

A wet snow began Thursday morning and turned into almost rain by one o'clock. Another freeze Thursday night is forecast.

AILING SINCE CIVIL WAR--VETERAN ENDORSES SPINAGO

Isaac Grabill, at Ninety, Has More Pep Than Ever After Taking New Tonic Containing Spinach.

Again Spinago, the new tonic containing spinach, has brought relief to a sufferer of many years. This time it is a 90-year-old Civil war veteran who is loud in his praise of this master medicine. He is just one of the many who are calling at the Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St., Circleville headquarters for Spinago, every day to tell the benefits received from this new Spinach tonic. This well known veteran, Mr. Isaac Grabill, has lived 11 miles west of Circleville on Rural Route No. 6 for many years and is well known among many Circleville residents. Last Saturday he came into the Mykrantz Pharmacy for his third bottle of Spinago and made the following remarkable statement:

"Sixty-five years ago, I served in the Civil war, and received a wound from which I never completely recovered. Since that time I have been troubled by pains over my body, especially in my side, probably resulting from this wound. During the past few years I have suffered great agony from stomach trouble. Gas formed on my stomach all the time, especially after eating and at night and made me miserable. My bowels and kidneys were out of order and I frequently had terrible pains across my back. I also had rheumatic attacks from time to time which did not add to my enjoyment of life. All in all, the past few years were not pleasant and my bodily condition did not improve even if I took the best care of myself. About two weeks ago I heard of Spinago and the wonderful results many Circleville people were receiving from this new medicine. I decided to try it and bought one bottle. I was told not to expect too much benefit from the first bottle or so but I want to say right now that the good that two bottles have done me is surprising. First of all that pain in my side which frequently spread to different parts of my body has entirely disappeared. This alone is worth taking Spinago for, because, believe me, it is a relief. Spinago has regulated my bowels and put my stomach in order. Gas doesn't form on my stomach and keep me in misery any more. My kidney troubles are all gone. I am no more bothered by rheumatic pains and I can truthfully say that I feel better than I have for a long, long time. Although I am ninety years old and served in the Civil war sixty-five years ago, I say that since taking Spinago I have more pep than ever. I am getting another bottle today and heartily recommend anyone who has suffered from any of my complaints to follow my example. I'm going to get my daughter to take it and am sure she will thank me about two weeks for the advice."

This is not an exceptional case. Spinago is working such wonders for so many residents of Circleville and other cities that it is hard to pick out any one person who has received outstanding benefits. Among those who come in to praise this new Spinach tonic there are always some who don't believe that such results are possible. "What is Spinago?" "How can it do all this?" they ask.

The answer is simple—Spinago can accomplish such feats because it is a tonic based upon a practical idea. An idea that has been tested through many years, that Spinago is one of the most valuable foods obtainable both to combat stomach and digestive ailments and to make rich, pure blood. For many, many years doctors have recommended Spinago in diets for these ailments and it is a generally accepted fact that Spinago makes the blood pure, rich and red. And if the blood is pure, rich and red you must be healthy. But in order to derive the great benefits from Spinago it is necessary to eat large quantities of it due to the great content of moisture and other elements which are not of any special benefit to the body. But if fresh Spinago is dried until all this moisture is driven out we have left a fine powder containing only the elements which are of benefit. One pound of this powder, due to its concentrated form, contains as much of the elements valuable to the body as many pounds of fresh, green spinach. In other words, this powder is concentrated Spinago.

This, then, is the reason why Spinago can work such wonders, because its main ingredient is concentrated, dry, powdered Spinago. This is the base of Spinago and is contained in each bottle, in sufficient quantity to produce the beneficial results of many pounds of fresh Spinago. To this important basic ingredient, the following well known roots, herbs and barks are added: Sarsaparilla, Mandrake, Dandelion, Prickly Ash, Poke Root, Gentian, Cascara, Licorice, Burdock and Wild Cherry scientifically compounded with other valuable ingredients of recognized medical value under a process and in proportion known only to the manufacturer.

Based upon such a formula, it is not surprising that Spinago has performed feats which seem almost like miracles.

Spinago is on sale at the Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St., Circleville, headquarters for this new Spinach tonic. It is sold on an absolutely guaranteed basis or it costs you nothing to try it. The price is one dollar for one bottle or five dollars for six. And if one, two, or six bottles do not produce the desired results the money is cheerfully refunded. Why not try Spinago on this plan? You can't lose. —Adv.

KEEP YOUR APPETITE YOUNG

If the things you used to like disagree with you, take a tablet of Pape's Diapiesin after a meal. It displaces the excess acid in the stomach, sweetens your food, and digests it. The nourishment from it produces good, healthy tissue and blood; you gain weight and strength, and with that comes a healthy, youthful color.

Thousands of people who suffered from stomach trouble for years, praise Pape's Diapiesin for their good health and young appetite. They can now eat anything they want. That's why 5 million packages are used a year. Any druggist will supply you with Pape's Diapiesin, because it is indispensable in every home.

Miss Minnie DeLong, of Columbus, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob DeLong, north of town.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Trone and daughter Edna, of Lancaster, were Sunday guests of Chas. A. Valentine and family.

SURPRISE PARTY

Mrs. J. M. Borror was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening, in honor of her birthday anniversary. When she and Mr. Borror returned from Columbus, where they had attended a show, she was very much surprised to find some of her friends and relatives had gathered at her home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Warner, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Prushing, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barch, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beckett, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Johnson and little daughter Carolyn, John F. Wilson, Miss Fannie Hook, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Borror and sons Max and Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Max Gray and son James, and Jacob Hagans. The evening was spent in playing euchre, and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The guests left at a late hour, wishing Mrs. Borror many more happy birthdays.

YANKEETOWN

The Ladies' Aid and guests were most bounteously entertained in the home of Mrs. Olivia Porter, on Feb. 12. This month being the anniversary of several birthdays of the members, a covered dish dinner was served at noon to 12 members and six guests. Several others had planned to attend but were detained by illness. At two p. m. the regular meeting was held, presided by Mrs. J. D. Maddox, who read the scripture lesson, then song by all blessed assurance, prayer, Mrs. H. S. Hatfield, song "Wonderful Words of Life"; roll call, and payment of dues and other business transacted, after which all repeated the 23 psalms. The program followed in which all took part. Those entertained were: Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Lewis, Mrs. Olivia Porter, Mrs. Willis Lewis, Mrs. Josie Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Drake, Mrs. Jerrey Ensley, Miss Edna Ensley, Mrs. Guy Willis, Mrs. Libbee Thomas, Mrs. Frank Recob, Mrs. J. D. Maddox, Mrs. Ernest Hanawalt, guests: Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Christina Hill, Mrs. Mary Darst and Mrs. H. S. Hatfield.

TARLTON

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hummel and two daughters, Evelyn and Mary Martha also Mary Boyer, of Lancaster and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Foust of Columbus, were guests of Mrs. Samuel Hedges, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hedges and children, of Columbus, were guests of Cliff Hedges and family, Sunday.

Milton Shupe, of near Amanda, was in our neighborhood Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Karshner of Columbus, were guests of C. H. Hinton and family, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Stroupe and family, of Columbus, were in town, Saturday.

KEEP YOUR APPETITE YOUNG

If the things you used to like disagree with you, take a tablet of Pape's Diapiesin after a meal. It displaces the excess acid in the stomach, sweetens your food, and digests it. The nourishment from it produces good, healthy tissue and blood; you gain weight and strength, and with that comes a healthy, youthful color.

Thousands of people who suffered from stomach trouble for years, praise Pape's Diapiesin for their good health and young appetite. They can now eat anything they want. That's why 5 million packages are used a year. Any druggist will supply you with Pape's Diapiesin, because it is indispensable in every home.

Miss Minnie DeLong, of Columbus, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob DeLong, north of town.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Trone and daughter Edna, of Lancaster, were Sunday guests of Chas. A. Valentine and family.

We announce Spring Hats because we know what's going on in men's minds

IN the first place to—keep such beauty in storage would be a contempt of fashion.

And then too—hundreds of men are sighing for the last breath of the furnace and the first breath of Spring.

Here it is—in dancing colors and handsome shapes in Knox hats—ready now to make your mirror tell some worth-while tales.

"I recommend a Lucky in place of a sweet"

"I recommend a Lucky in place of a sweet. Toasting has taken out every bit of harshness in the Lucky Strike tobacco. All that remains is the splendid Lucky flavor—an excellent substitute when your appetite craves a sweet but your figure must be considered."

ELSIE DE WOLFE

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.

OUR FAMOUS WHITE ELEPHANT SALE

Affords a Unique Opportunity

to Buy FINE FURNITURE Cheaply

Beds, beds, who wants a bed?

We have found some White Elephants among our bed stock. So, down goes the price. See prices below.

Here's an old one, but also a good one. It is full sized, and finished Walnut on steel. It was priced at $30, but take it for 1/2, or $15.00.

Another steel bed, finished Walnut, and full size, was $29, yours for $17.50.

Still another one, was $18.50, now $10.

Now, here's one finished Oak. It is steel, and full size. Was $15, take it for $8.50.

Here's an old one, finished in Ivory. Price cut from $25 to $10.00.

Another one in Ivory, also an old one, it was $30, but you can have it for $10.

Drop Leaf Breakfast Sets Just Two White Elephants in Them

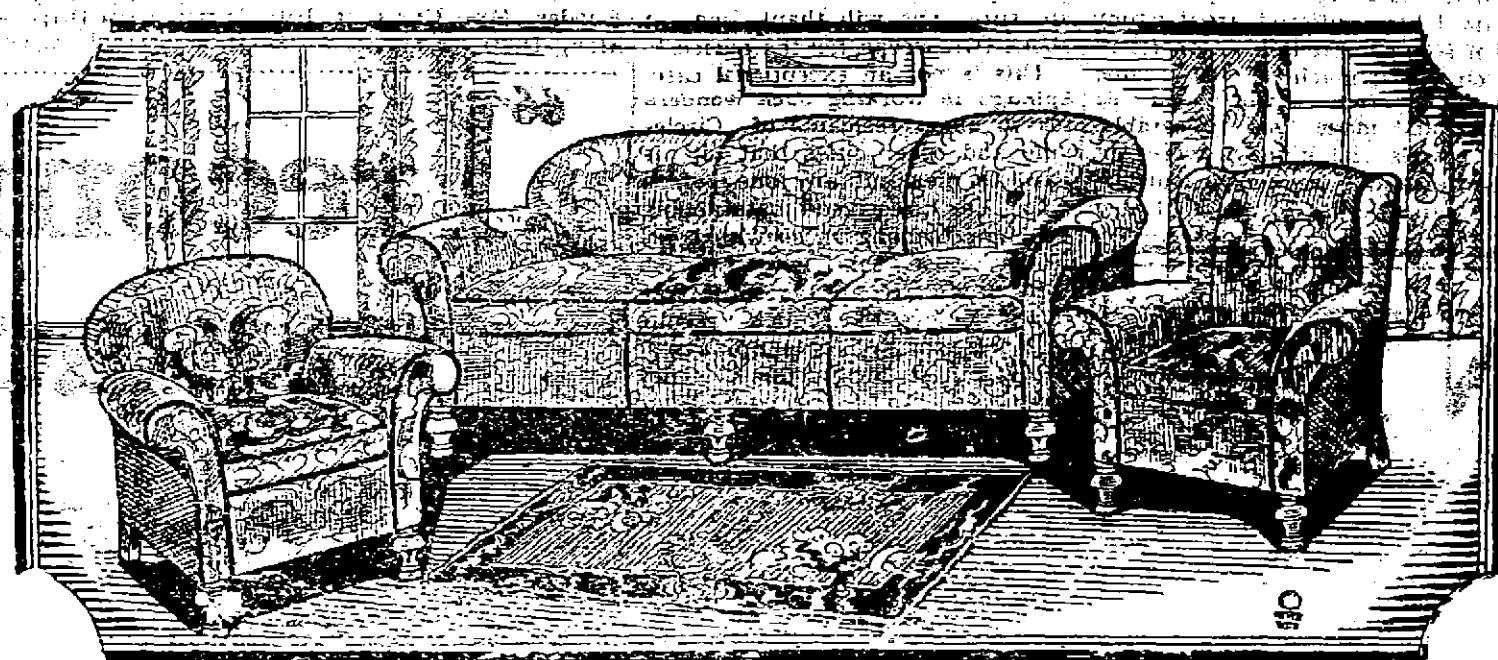

One Silver Oak, with Gold band decorated, table and four chairs, sold regularly at $50—rather than keep the set, we'll sell to you for $30.00.

....The other one is finished in Mahogany and Ivory—legs and bases are Ivory—A dandy set for your kitchen, but it has been here too long. We thought it would sell for $40.00, but it didn't. So, take it along for $25.00.

Frankly, we guess wrongly sometimes. And for that reason we have on our floor scores of suites and individual pieces of the very finest construction, but which somehow did not sell so well as other items.

Rent costs money. We cannot afford the space these really excellent articles take up, selling slowly as they do. And so we're deliberately underpricing them in order to make for quicker turnover. If you are in the market for superior furniture sold many dollars below par, drop in on our White Elephant Sale and inspect the extraordinary buys.

That's exactly what they are—just plain white elephants, and we want to rid ourselves of them during the two weeks. Good storekeeping is like good housekeeping and we are going to clean house. It's all new furniture, some a little shopworn. Maybe you can't use some of these things either, but if you can, the prices are so low that they will be extra good bargains. Many items are not listed, so come to the Bargain Party and see what real white elephants we have to offer you.

A Few White Elephants in Living Room Suites

3 Piece, mohair all over, reversible cushions, wood top rail and front panels, that has been kicked around until it is a little scarred. We have knocked $110.00 off the price, and you can have it for only $160.00, if you can use it.

3 Piece, plain taupe velour all over, with a bed in the davenport. Just the thing to have around when the unexpected guests arrive and you have all beds filled. We'll admit that it has been a "sticker" and we have shoved it around for some time, yet it's a real bargain at $139.00 which is a saving of $77.00.

A little over a year ago, we bought a three-piece living room suite, in a multi-colored Jacquard covering that we thought would not show the soil, and the quality of the cover would stand having children mill around over it. We thought that it would sell at $210 but, it is still sticking around. It's for sale at $159.00, which makes it a real bargain. Who wants it?

Library Tables

Space will not permit us to tell you about all the good things that we can offer you in our line of davenport and occasional tables. Suffice it to say that we have White Elephants in our table lines. These have been cut in price from one-third to one-half. If you need a table for that lonesome corner, or behind the davenport, don't overlook these bargains.

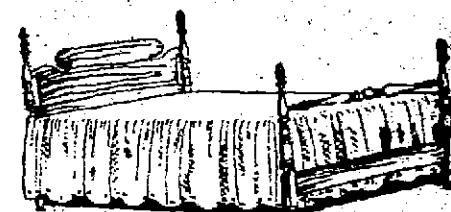

Here's Two Spinet Desks

Both of them are hardwood, finished in Mahogany. We've had them entirely too long, and we want to clean them out. They'd make a dandy place for you to write your letters, keep your writing materials, and add beauty to your room.

One of them, we thought, would sell for $30.00, but didn't. So take it along for $20.00.

The other one was marked $30.00 but you can have it for only $18.

4-Poster Beds at White Elephant Prices

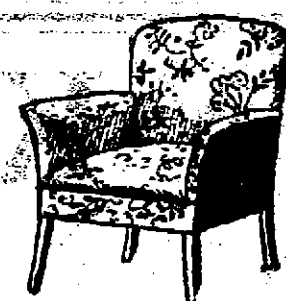

When a woman starts to clean house, look out. Mrs. Stevenson is heading our White Elephant hunt, and look what she has done to these Four-Posters.

She found that we had two Twin and two Full sized SOLID WALNUT beds which she classes as White Elephants. They are fine beds, but they have been hanging around entirely too long to suit her.

They formerly sold for $42.00

Now They Are Cut to Only $25.00

(Take your choice of sizes.)

White Elephant Chairs

Boudoir, in Denim, was $22.50—take it for $12.00.

Boudoir, in Damask, was $24.00—take it for $13.50.

(They'll make nice chairs for some one's bed room.)

For Dad—Here's a reclining Cogswell, with foot-stool to match, in multi-colored Jacquard covering. We thought it was worth $77.00, but it didn't sell, so we'll take $50.00.

Here's another easy chair, in fiber and upholstered in a good looking tapestry, with foot-stool to match. You can have it for $25.00, which is a saving of $20.00.

We have two more Cogswell chairs that we are putting in this sale at greatly reduced prices. One has a stool to match for $35.00, a saving of $20.00. The other has a savings of $18, or take it at $23.50. These ARE bargains.

Stately hall-chair, with needle-point tapestry upholstery, that we thought would sell for $60.00, but—here it goes for only $33.50.

A high back chair, upholstered in tapestry, that you can have for just half price, or $15.00.

These are just a few of the chairs and rockers that have worn their welcome out with us that you can buy at prices one-third to one-half off. Come in and look them over. You'll find something that you can use.

Fresh Vegetables By the Bottle!

HERE are valuable dietary qualities in vegetables, but not all of us get enough. Fresh vegetables, and out-look tires of a "vegetable diet." A simple way to remedy this is to take a bottle of vegetable juice. It is a natural, healthful, and delicious liquid that contains all the vitamins and minerals found in fresh vegetables. It is a perfect food for the system, and it is a perfect food for the soul. It is a perfect food for the body, and it is a perfect food for the mind. It is a perfect food for the whole person.

balance without dieting. And how pure syrup pepsin tones the stomach, liver, and bowels! You'll soon discover you can eat anything. Your chronic, recurring constipation spells will disappear.

A person who will take this simple precaution will go month after month without need of the powerful purges so frequently needed in the past.

Try this wonderful vegetable product. Dr. Caldwell first used it in 1875. Today, you cannot name a "diet" without this "liquid prescription" always on hand. All our ailments are cured. Nothing is so wonderful for children, too; it is an ideal combination of laxative herbs and pure pepsin that just about insures the health of young or old.

SALT CREEK VALLEY

The center of attraction last week was the tournament at Circleville. The games are showing, according to expectations, more good evenly matched teams than usual. Some of the best teams are still in the running and some of the best games are yet to be played, in fact, every game until the end will be good.

Salt Creek girls lost their second game on Saturday evening to Scioto after playing two overtime periods. Every Salt Creek fan can be pleased with the strong showing of the girls against the best team Scioto has ever had. Scioto won because they were steeper and had more endurance. They deserved to win. It is well to remember that Salt Creek boys and girls did not let us see a basketball game last evening when they were shooting, foul shooting, passing, pivoting and learning to see and meet the weakness of the opponents. It is too much against schools that have a floor at the building.

In the midst of the tournament we are looking forward to the best local occasion of the year. Friday evening, March 22, the quartet will be given a musical comedy will give us all amusement, fun and entertainment.

Mr. Roush and his Shop class are now working on hog feeders. Farmers who are interested might come and inspect with profit the feeders when they are finished.

Miss Snyder's first year English class is doing exceptional work using a new text book. Very few beginning Latin classes know English but this year's Latin class does.

The boys of the upper grades and high school enjoyed one good battle of snow balls last week. The snow was just right and the boys needed only the word of assent to do battle. No casualties but lots of fun and more snow following and the finest of response.

MAN GAINED 33 POUNDS; PRAISES MODERN KONJOLA

Konjola Scores Quick and Complete Victory In Stubborn Case For Ohio Resident.

MR. ALBERT DILLEY. "Despite the many splendid endorsements of Konjola, I certainly was not prepared for the huge surprise it gave me by restoring my health after years of suffering," said Mr. Albert Dilley. P. O. Box 42, Washington Court House, Ohio.

"For ten years I was the victim of a most distressing and stubborn case of indigestion. Once I was unable to work for three weeks and two days. When I did work it was under great disadvantage and with pain. For I was really too weak to be on the job. I became greatly discouraged for when one has hunted for relief for ten years and found none, there seemed to be little hope of ever being better.

"In the four months following my use of Konjola, I gained thirty-three pounds. I have not missed a day's work since I started the treatment, and by the time I finished four bottles, my indigestion was absolutely restored. I want to tell of this splendid success of Konjola so that others will know there is such a remedy within their reach. To me Konjola is a priceless medicine."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, O., at Hykman's Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists throughout the country.

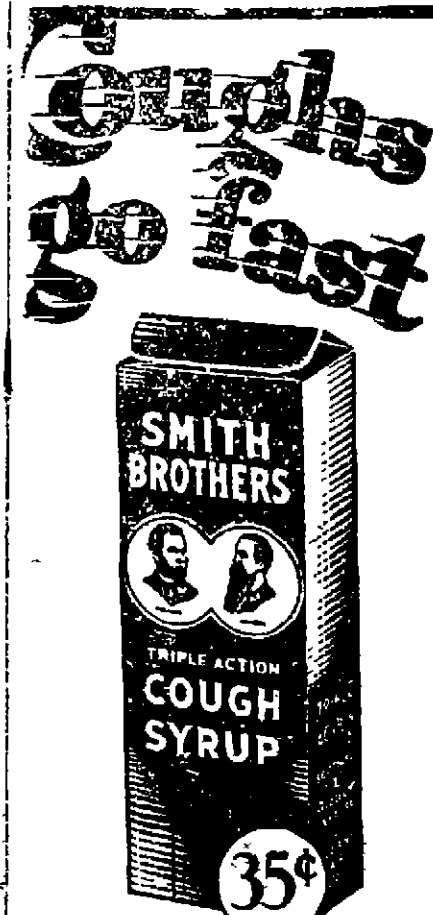

Much Older. They had been up to town to see the latest musical comedy and were discussing its merits as they were traveling homewards on the train.

"I think I liked the bad man best of all," declared the girl. "He was so very natural in everything—oh, what lovely hair, so black and curly."

The young man beside her cursed inwardly. "He was very fair."

"What did you think of the big chorus of twenty-two?" he ventured to change the subject.

"They were more than that," declared the girl decisively. "There wasn't one under thirty in my opinion!"—London Answers.

BIBLE THOUGHT

EXHORTATION—Sing unto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for He hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evil doers. —Jeremiah 20:13.

PRAYER—Come, we that love the Lord, And let our joys be known.

THE NEXT WORLDS FAIR—The people in Chicago are moving for a great world's fair to be held in 1933, to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of that city as a municipality. It is proposed to make this fair a demonstration of the progress of human endeavor in all departments of life during the past century.

The Chicago people are hustlers and they will get up an extremely interesting exhibition which it would be a satisfaction for anyone to attend.

Those of us who have seen the great world's fair of past years will never forget the experience, and these exhibits opened up new conceptions of modern science and industry. Many of us can recall tramping weary miles through the great exhibition halls of those shows, and even we worked to the uttermost limit of our strength, we only saw an insignificant fraction of the interesting and instructive show.

The idea of a demonstration of the world's progress in 100 years is a fruitful one, and some startling contrasts could be shown. Beside the beautiful and powerful automobile of today which so annihilates distance and the mammoth railroad locomotive which draws its great load over the mountains, they will have placed the oxcart, and the "one horse shay," and the primitive railroad locomotive which were just beginning to come into use in 1825.

Beside the marvelous radio and telephone and telegraph of today, they would have placed the horse-back rider, who then was the fleetest messenger.

The world's progress in science in 100 years is worth traveling to an exposition to study. The world has not yet made any corresponding progress in human character in that period. Let it be hoped that when one more century rolls around equal gains can be demonstrated in that field of greater importance.

Spoiling the Child

By KING LARDNER

To the Editor:

I have received a letter from she who signs herself Worried Mother, that wants information in regards to how to handle her 2 kids that seems to be kind of a wild pair and in behalf of other parents that maybe in the same pickle. It looks like I should ought to print her letter to me and my reply to same as follows:

She writes, in a kind of illiterate way: "Dear sir: I been informed by the authorities that you have 4 children that is probably the best behaved children this side of the reform school. Well, Mr., I haven't got only 1/2 as many children, 1 of them a boy 4 yrs. old and the other a girl 1 and 1/2 yrs. old and I can't do anything with either 1 of them."

For inst. in the first place, the little girl won't sleep nights and cry a whole lot and also laps up more milk than we can afford to buy for her. In regards to the boy, he won't mind anything we tell him and keeps running away from home and when the neighbors' children comes over to play with him, it always winds up in a fight and he always gets the worst of it as he hasn't got any nerve. If you will pardon the slang, I would a plain envelope with no writing on it for reply and hope you won't fail to reply."

And then she signs her name and address which is none of our readers' business.

My reply follows: "Mrs. Angus Simpson, 436 Railroad Street, Crestline, Ohio, Dear old girl: You can bet I won't fail to reply to your overtures as I always make it a pt. to answer such notes from fair ladies of the fair sex. I presume your note was in code, but I will reply to it on the up and up and my motto is safety 1st and then they can't nobody have a comeback."

You been well informed about the size of my family and you couldn't of come to a better man to get the desired information. Amongst my 4 children I had about the same kind of a struggle you are having with yours, but I presume you have to give the boy the unique name of Junior and probably the little girl is called Lil. Well, we will take up Junior. I of my sons about the same age had a habit of running away from home all hrs. of the day and finally came home the good old summer time and I told him he could go barefooted, then I went out on the street and over it for a 1/2 mile in both directions with ticks turned bottom side up but the little devil coaxed me by going through the fields and the neighbors' back yds. so I day I got him out in the wood shed and pretended like I was splitting kindling wood and by accident the head of my hatchet come down on 3 toes of his 1st ft. foremost and the operation was successful. Him and his parent both thought it was an accident so to say. The way it is now, his nurse, who is 70 yrs. old and built in proportion, can roll after him and catch him before he gets out of the yard."

As for Junior not minding anything you say, I have a kid that was the same way until I got me a whipping post which can be bought at a reduction in any first-class post office and after about 3 lessons he began to pay a tension. One day after I give him the works, a couple of our friends drove by in their tractor and they seen him and stopped and said:

"Hello, Stupid, are you all well?" "No thank you, was his reply. "I am all well."

As for Junior being afraid to fight, the thing is to match him up with Maloney and let him get some courage.

Now in respects to Lil. I haven't no gals, but the same treatment ought to be good for both brands. One of my kids insisted on 5 bottles of milk a day and wouldn't take no less till I conceived the idea of putting sour milk in 2 of the bottles and he wouldn't touch none but the other 2 and we made a daily saving of 99 per cent on milk alone. And when this bird won't sleep at night I would first rock him to sleep with a punch in the jaw or sprinkle a little chloroform on his pillow and the first thing you know you couldn't hardly wake him up."

I also had a kid that cried a whole lot and for no reason except that he had the colic or something or was getting teeth, with in a waste of time in the first place because they loose them all when they are about 6 or 7 and get a new string. Well, when he had cried till I couldn't stand it, I so measure. I went out and bought a double bid, shotgun and shot out his rear ends.

Children is a great comfort when they are brought up right and not get too fresh and it is all in the handling.

I hope I have helped you out, dearie, and if you ever hit this old town of New York City, I wish you would call me up or give me a ring as they say, only be sure not to call in the house as the phone isn't in very good shape and pretty near nobody is liable to answer and not understand you, but give me a ring at the office and what ever information I can give you, why I am at your beckon call."

Why the Flag?

A speaker was addressing a country school in southern Indiana and was making a talk on patriotism. Pointing to a large flag hung on the wall, he asked:

"And why is that flag hung in your schoolroom?"

There was a loud whisper from one of the pupils addressed to the teacher:

"Shall I tell him we put it there to cover up the place where the

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

IRENE ROBELINE, in love with handsome Guinn Holden, the young Texas town minister, is bitterly disappointed when he marries Lilith, a beautiful blonde who had boasted that she would force him to propose to her. A year later Lilith dies during child birth. Irene then marries Holden, believing he could be made to forget the past and make her happy with his love. Before this event she had rejected Will Lundy, the town doctor, in love with her. With Will she organized a meeting to uphold the pastor when the deacons of the church tried to expel a member for drunkenness. After marriage Irene devoted her whole life to Guinn's comfort and success. With Lilith, the boy, she found a more difficult problem, as her father had thoroughly spoiled her. In her he constantly saw the picture of his dead wife—the same golden hair, blue eyes and soft pink skin. Irene knew that Mattie Anson, the town gossip, was aware of Holden's spiritual loyalty to the dead Lilith. When Irene's child was born she believed Guinn's love would be fully hers. Instead he entered the room with Lilith in his arms "to see Lilith's little sister. After eighteen years of married life Irene finds the same unseemly barrier—Holden loves and spoils the beautiful Lilith, now graduated from college, while Tina, Ross and Lundy, Irene's own children by him, occupy lesser stations in his heart and mind.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XX.

LUNDY came up behind her softly at that moment, in his sneakers and in his oldest clothes that he kept to go fishing in.

"Going with Charley to the creek. That all right, mother?"

"Yes, I reckon so," she said. "Do you know where my fishing tackle is?"

"No, dear. Maybe Tina can help you find it."

He bounded up the steps with long strides in search of Tina, and Irene went back to her weeds and her thoughts. It had not occurred to either that Lilith should help him find his fishing tackle. She had a mind above such trivialities.

Lilith, strange compound. . . elusive. . . problematic. . . She was not at all demonstrative of affection, save when she wished to bend someone to her will. . . then she'd use a kiss or a caress as she would a verbal argument or appeal.

The fact that she never tried to kiss Lundy accounted for part of her hold over him. He had hated being fussed over from the time he was a baby, and would sometimes strike out at Tina if she tried to cuddle him in her arms. Lundy had been an independent, self-respecting man from his earliest consciousness. Tina had tried to make a good baby of him, while Lilith, in her moral but had supervised his manners. Lilith came nearer to loving Lundy than she did anyone.

If indeed she cared at all for anyone, it would have shocked her father to have such a question raised in his hearing, but did Lilith honestly have any affection for any member of her family?

She was coldly, gracefully selfish, but in such artistic way that the casual observer would see only her charm.

Irene's mouth shut tight in resentment as she remembered how she had always had to be on guard to keep Tina from being squelched by Lilith. Golden hair and blue eyes and perfection of skin had an unreasonable arrogance.

Little pictures from the past flashed before her. The day when the two girls had been skipping rope on the walk while she sat sewing on the porch. Tina had come up, with lip quivering and brown eyes brimming with tears.

"Mother, why is it that when I love Lilith so much, she doesn't love me so much?"

Her mother had kissed her. "That's often the way of the world, my dear, and you'll have to learn to recognize it."

But Tina had refused to accept so calm a philosophy. "But sometimes I think she disloves me!" she had blubbered.

"No, darling. I'm sure she doesn't. Do you, Lilith?"

"No," was the casual answer, as Lilith went on skipping rope.

"Sisters must always love each other," had been the maternal remark. Tina's face had brightened as if she felt sure her mother's admonition would insure the result. . . Lilith had gone on blithely skipping rope. Irene could see the picture that she made. . . her yellow curls bouncing up and down, her lips curved in a careless smile, her cheeks pink with excitement.

A new realization of the child's vivid beauty had struck her at the moment with a sort of shock. She'd surely be able to sway hearts to her own desires when she was grown. (Now she was grown, what would happen? . . .)

Another memory came up—of a day when the family loafed at twilight on the lawn under the big pecan tree. Lilith had asked her father for a pink parasol and had gotten it. If any of the other children went to him for a concession, he would say, "Well, now, let's see what Mother has to say about it. If she's willing, I am." But Lilith had learned that if she appealed to him first, she got what she wished, with no stipulation as to Mother's approval. The canny child had always traded on the fact that Irene was too loyal a wife and mother to upset any arrangement which he had made. And Irene would especially have hesitated in the case of Lilith, afraid that he or the child might think her a stern step-mother.

Tina had gone on in her outburst of long repressed grievances

So she had gotten in her parasol and was flaunting its lace ruffles, though there was no sun at all. Tina hurt that she had no match for it, but more because her father had ignored her in the matter, had clenched her hands tightly on her knobby knees and burst forth with her grievance.

"Father, I do think it wasn't fair of you to bring Lilith a parasol and not me one, too?"

"Lilith's older than you," he had explained.

"She's not but two years older than me. And anyway, I couldn't help that, could I?"

"No, dear," he had amiably agreed.

Lilith had snuggled against her father and opened and shut her parasol to display its charms to the pink ruffles of her and the pink ruffles with a fond arm.

Tina had said wistfully, "When I'm older than Lilith, can I have things first?"

Lilith had smiled with subtle malice. "You never can be older than me. I'll always be ahead of you."

Tina's chin had quivered, though she tried to keep back the tears. "Never mind, darling," her mother had said. "When you girls wish she were younger. Big girls like to be younger."

But Tina had been unconsoled. "She's bigger than me, too, and you make her dresses over for me. But you never make my clothes over for her!"

"You're so hard on your things I wouldn't wear 'em when you get through with 'em," Lilith had said, with a faint touch of contempt.

"It's not fair that she always gets the new things and I have to wear her old ones!" the child had cried passionately.

"That's because we are a preacher's family and there isn't enough money," Lilith had said, with an air of virtuous resignation.

"But you always get new things—and they match you—and they don't match me!"

Lilith had given a patronizing smile, maddening to Tina and to Tina's mother.

Tina had gone on in her outburst of long repressed grievances. "I have to wear your old dresses and study out of your old books. I reckon when I'm grown I'll have to take your second-hand husband."

"Will I, mother?"

Irene had laughed and clasped the child's rigid little body. "I hope not, honey."

But her face had sobered. That was what she had done—taken Lilith's husband second-hand. . . Irene gazed at the pile of weeds her energy had uprooted, and pursued her thought further, or rather let it pursue her. Wasn't he Lilith's husband still? Was he a mental bigamist? Was there anything immoral in loving two wives at once? Or were all men Moralists at heart, cherishing the Liliths for their beauty and grace, the Irenes for their domestic usefulness?

Maybe "Till death us do part" wasn't long enough to separate a man from the woman he passionately loved. Maybe it would take his death as well as hers. . . He did love her, after his fashion. But would he ever turn to her heartedly? She sometimes felt she would give her life to see in his eyes the look he had had for Lilith.

Fresh Vegetables By the Bottle!

HERE are valuable dietary qualities in vegetables, but not all of us get enough fresh vegetables, and one soon tires of a "vegetable diet." A simple way to remedy this is to get a little syrupy pepsin. Take a spoonful occasionally and you stimulate the inner system. Your better appetite, and perfect assimilation of whatever you eat, will soon show you are on the right track. Your elimination will become more thorough and regular.

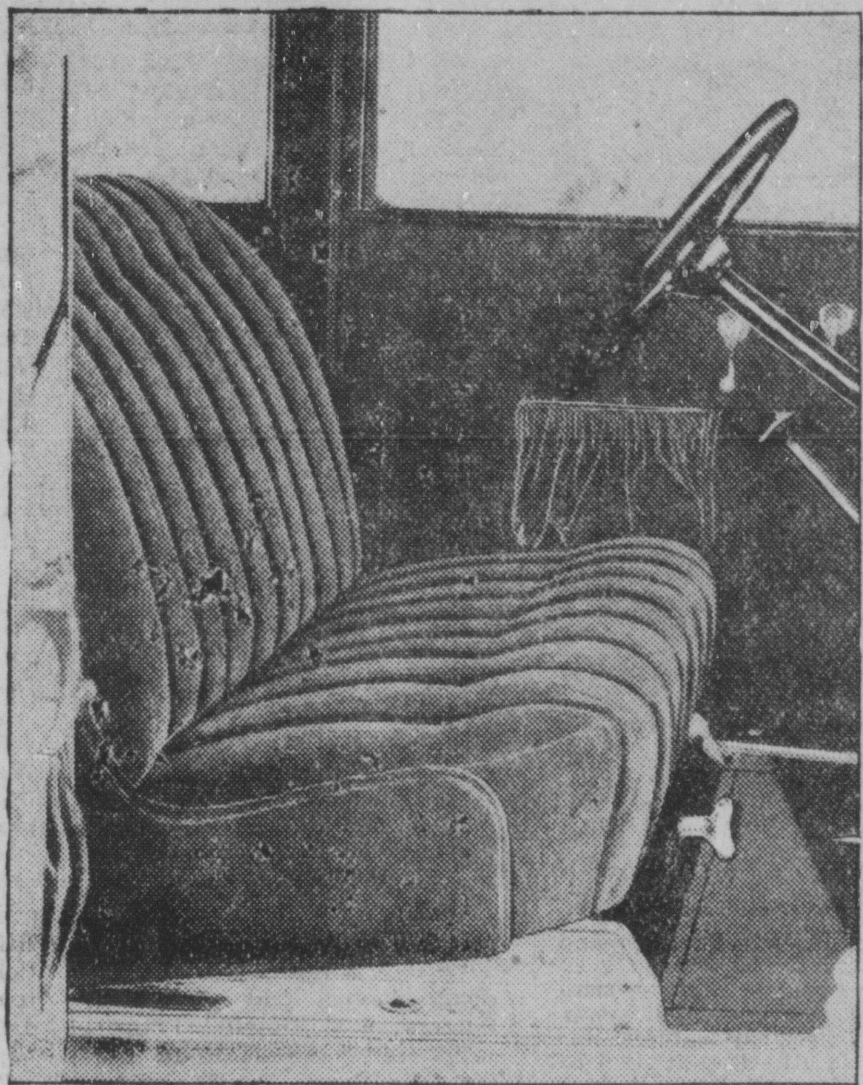

So, don't give up things you like to eat; or eat a lot of other things because you "ought to." The syrupy pepsin can establish that perfect balance without dieting. And how pure syrupy pepsin tones the stomach, liver, and bowels! You'll soon discover you can eat anything. Your chronic, recurring constipation spells will disappear.

A person who will take this simple precaution will go month after month without need of the powerful purges so frequently needed in the past.

Try this wonderful vegetable product. Dr. Caldwell first used it in 1875. Today, you cannot name a druggist who hasn't this famous prescription always on hand, all put up, directions enclosed. Nothing is so wonderful for children, too; it is an ideal combination of laxative herbs and pure pepsin that just about insures the health of young or old.

They had been up to town to see the latest musical comedy, and were discussing its merits as they were traveling homewards on the train.

"I think I liked the bad man best of all," declared the girl. "He was so very natural in everything—oh, what lovely hair—so black and curly!"

The young man beside her turned inwardly. He was very fair.

"What did you think of the chorus of twenty-two?" he ventured, to change the subject.

"They were more than that," declared the girl decisively. "There wasn't one under thirty, in my opinion."—London Answers

SALT CREEK VALLEY

The center of attraction last week was the tournament at Circleville. The games are showing, according to expectations, more good evenly matched teams than usual. Some of the best teams are still in the running and some of the best games are yet to be played, in fact, every game until the end will be good.

Saltcreek girls lost their second game, on Saturday evening to Scioto after playing two overtime periods. Every Saltcreek fan can be pleased with the strong showing of the girls against the best team Scioto has ever had. Scioto won because they were steadier and had more endurance. They deserved to win. It is well to remember that Saltcreek boys and girls do not get to see a basketball except one practice evening each week. Basketball, football, shooting, guarding, passing, pivoting and learning to see and meet the weakness of the opponents is too much against schools that have a floor at the building.

In the midst of the tournament we are looking forward to the best local occasion of the year. Friday evening, March 22, the operetta will be given. A musical comedy will give us all amusement, fun and entertainment.

Mr. Roush and his Shop class are now working on hog feeders. Farmers who are interested might come and inspect with profit the feeders when they are finished.

Miss Snyder's first year English class is doing exceptional work using a new text book. Very few beginning Latin classes know English but this year's Latin class does.

The boys of the upper grades and high school enjoyed one good battle of snow balls last week. The snow was just right and the boys needed only the word of assent to do battle. No casualties, but lots of fun and more work following and the finest of response.

Stored Eggs Lose Weight

Unless the air in the room is not too moist nor too dry, and the house is properly ventilated, eggs will lose in weight in cold storage on account of their tendency to evaporate through the shell.

MAN GAINED 33 POUNDS; PRAISES MODERN KONJOLA

Konjola Scores Quick and Complete Victory In Stubborn Case For Ohio Resident.

MR. ALBERT DILLEY.

"Despite the many splendid endorsements of Konjola, I certainly was not prepared for the huge surprise it gave me by restoring my health after years of suffering," said Mr. Albert Dilley, P. O. Box 42, Washington Court House, Ohio.

"For ten years I was the victim of a most distressing and stubborn case of indigestion. Once I was unable to work for three weeks and two days. When I did work it was under great disadvantage and with pain, for I was really too weak to be on the job. I became greatly discouraged, for when one has hunted for relief for ten years and found none, there seemed to be little hope of ever being better.

"In the four months following my use of Konjola, I gained thirty-three pounds. I have not missed a day's work since I started the treatment, and by the time I finished four bottles, my indigestion was absolutely restored. I want to tell of this splendid success of Konjola so that others will know there is such a remedy within their reach. To me Konjola is a priceless medicine."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, O., at Mykrantz Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section.

Lyndon, Ohio Farmer Drives In To Praise Hoyt's Compound

SUFFERED FROM RHEUMATISM FOR YEARS; HOYT'S ENDED HIS SUFFERING AFTER EVERYTHING ELSE FAILED.

Mr. Jesse Beath, RFD No. 3, Lyndon, O., is still another widely known resident of this vicinity who is praising the great Hoyt's Compound, which is the great natural mixture on nature's roots and herbs now being introduced daily at Wilder's Pharmacy, Circleville by the Hoyt man in person.

MR. JESSE BEATH

"I have been a farmer at Lyndon, Ohio, RFD No. 3 for several years," said Mr. Beath. "I am 40 years of age and the last few years have been filled with PAIN AND SUFFERING from rheumatism which settled in my hands and arms and the back of my neck and finally grew so painful that I thought I would be unable to stand. My bowels were very irregular and I never felt like working because of my condition. I tried lots of different medicines without noticeable relief. I read where Hoyt's had helped several people in Chillicothe with whom I was very intimately acquainted and knew that it must be WHAT I NEEDED. I went to Mutchler's Pharmacy and purchased two bottles of Hoyt's and after taking this medicine can truthfully say that I haven't an ACHES OR PAIN in my entire body. I am able to sleep good every night, bowels move regularly and I now enjoy working every day, because I feel good and don't suffer any more with that dreadful rheumatism. Too much praise cannot be given this wonderful medicine. Anyone who suffers should at least give it a trial."

The Hoyt man is in person at Wilder's Drug Store, Circleville every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evening meeting the throngs of health seekers and explaining the merits of Hoyt's Compound to them. Go in and let him tell you about it.

ILL-FITTING SHOES MAY CAUSE FATIGUE

Use Good Sense in Clothing Your Feet, Advises Dr. Copeland, for You Can't Be Efficient or Content Getting About on Cramped, Painful Feet.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DO you ever think about your shoes and the importance of buying the proper kind? As I observe the footwear of some of my friends I am inclined to doubt it. If I may be permitted to say so, I must say the fair women of the race are the great offenders in this matter.

The younger and more attractive person, the more the clerk in the shoe store is permitted to dictate the choice of shoes. He fits the feet to the shoes. He crowds the poor, harmless, voiceless feet into shoes made for another race and another period of history.

Is this sensible? How much wiser it would be to select shoes that really fit—shoes which are comfortable. The shoes make all the difference between happiness and usefulness on the one side and misery on the other.

In pointing out the common defects in shoes, we find, first, that usually there are too short. The toes are crowded and bent out of shape. In consequence, the ends of the toes are turned down and the "knuckles" of the toes are thrown up, to be rubbed by the shoe. This means that corns will be produced.

I think it must be conceded that the shoes we wear are responsible for the corns and callouses. That is, wrongly fitted and improperly shaped shoes are at fault for these defects. Too many shoes are painfully narrow. The joints and sides of the toes are pressed upon, so that the deformities of the feet result. The heels may be too high. There is a reasonable degree of height in heels. We need not condemn all high heels, but certainly those that are two or three inches high may be very damaging.

You are not sensible if you permit the dictates of fashion to eclipse your good sense. Choose your shoes for comfortable wear. Then your feet won't get tired, necessitating a pair of carpet slippers the minute you get into the house. When your shoes are properly fitted there won't be need of shedding them at the first opportunity.

If the feet are cared for and properly shod, there will be remarkably little fatigue at the end of the day. I am sure it is not standing or walking, so long as it is wrong footwear, that is responsible for being served during the social hour.

Mrs. Evans, Mrs. C. O. Turner, Mrs. Clarence Fox, Doris Hughes, H. H. Ater and family, E. T. Strope, L. C. Hancock, Elmer Pugh, Mrs. Fanny Kirk and children, Mrs. Sophia Swayer, Mrs. William Bennett and son Bertus Carleton, Sara Bonham.

Errel Wright and Glen Skinner have made a survey of Perry-twp during the past week and the report shows that 98 per cent of the cow owners presented with the petition for the tuberculosis test have signed them. So, it looks very much like we will soon know the physical condition of Bossy.

—Homer Bowers, of Dayton and Fred Mowser were business visitors at Columbus last Friday.

Mrs. Almeda Bennett and son, Bertus Carleton, were visitors with Mrs. Geo. H. Adkins and children at Circleville last Saturday afternoon.

Captain George Lindsay will hold a public sale of live stock at his residence, Feb. 25.

Mrs. Susan Seymour who fractured her hip Monday morning as she fell coming downstairs is resting as well as could be expected. The accident happened at the home of her daughter Mrs. E. E. Richey on Walnut-st. Mrs. Seymour is 75 years old.

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that.

That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

CITY OFFERS WORK FOR JOBLESS MEN

In order that men whose families have been aided by the city this winter can prove their sincerity in wanting work, Service Director L. E. Miller called for 15 of them Thursday afternoon to aid in cleaning snow from the streets in the downtown business section.

Director Miller said the snow will not only give the men an opportunity of earning money but will also show what families in the city are deserving of future aid.

OFFICES TO CLOSE

County and city offices will be closed as also will be the postoffice on Friday in celebration of Washington's birthday. There will be no city or rural mail deliveries Friday. Circleville public schools, however, will remain in session although several county schools will be closed for the day.

COURTHOUSE DOOR WILL BE REPAIRED

Storm doors being constructed at the maintenance to the courthouse Thursday by Barnes and Marion, contractors, were not ordered in the belief that the present snow is the forerunner of a long spell of winter, but because the front doors will be taken down for repairs.

Exposure to the weather has warped and loosened the panels on the doors which will be repaired and about 10 days will be required for the work. Slots will be cut in the doors of all offices so that mail and important papers can be placed inside them when the offices are closed.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 21.—Highway Director Robert N. Waid today announced the appointment of Harry D. Metcalf, Columbus, as engineer of the Columbus division, state highway department. This division includes Delaware, Franklin, Marion, Morrow, Fayette, Madison, Pickaway and Union counties.

"We have met the enemy and they are ours." So said the C. A. C. basketball squad after the battle at the C. A. C. gym Wednesday night when the C. A. C. defeated the New Lexington five by a 45 to 33 score.

The C. A. C. started the attack early and had the visitors on the defensive all through the game. At only one stage of the game did their counter attacks become dangerous enough to cause the local boys any considerable amount of worry. This was near the close of the first quarter when the New Lexington crew cut the C. A. C. lead to three points. The C. A. C. warriors were leading by a 28 to 20 score at the half.

The second half was more of a nip and tuck affair with first one team then the other scoring but even in this period the local boys outpointed the visitors several points.

Art Steele deserves the flowers for Wednesday night's game. That little fellow played one of the sweetest games of basketball witnessed on the local court for some time. New Lexington tried hard to stop him by changing guards several times and at one time during the game had two men on him but he accounted for 24 of the C. A. C.'s points.

In the preliminary game, the Flying Clouds defeated the Lancaster Rosenblooms by the score of 21 to 14. The Clouds were off form and could not get their offense to working, but their defense held their opponents to five baskets. The first half ended 9 to 4 in favor of the Clouds. Weller connected for 10 points for the Clouds and Kams made seven points for the visitors.

HEAVEN VISIT IS DESCRIBED

Lancaster Girl Tells Of Walk With Christ After Fainting.

LANCASTER, O., Feb. 21.—Memories of heavenly visions today floated through the mind of 14-year-old Helen Lane, one of the two girls who dropped unconscious before the altar of Church of Christ at revival meetings there.

Loud murmurings against supposed hypnotism and witchcraft were stilled when the girl regained consciousness and in their place came a reverential awe of God.

When the 14-year-old miss revived from the state of coma she told of heavenly dreams, dreams of having walked side by side with Christ in heaven.

But these beautiful hallucinations were bluntly tempered by a nightmare. The school girl dreamed of seeing her small brother drown, and she was in a highly nervous state until Bobby had reassured her by climbing on her sickbed.

During the stupor, Helen's teeth were locked tightly shut and only liquid nourishment could be fed her.

She was the second girl that fainted before the altar of the Lord when Rev. J. G. Laveck, exhorter of his listeners to come forth and be converted. Ethel Frances, 17-year-old high school girl, dropped unconscious on Feb. 6. Both of the girls will recover, physicians declared.

Gentlemen:

Since the completion of my new home on S. Court St., the material for which I purchased from you, am sure you will be glad to know that the cost was about $338.00 less than that asked by the mail-order concern's Ready Cut house I had thought of buying. This savings was equal to more than 50% of the carpenter labor required to build the house besides the bother and expense of hauling the material from the railroad station to the job.

The material you furnished, I am sure was equal to or better than specified in their catalogs and I was well pleased with your plans and blue prints which was an exact duplicate of the house I had in mind.

I was surprised and glad to know that we are able to purchase building materials in Circleville at such reasonable prices.

Yours sincerely

In no other business does agent mean so much as in the fire insurance business as transacted by the Stock Companies.

More than a century ago these companies established relations with property owners through responsible local representatives.

The system has grown with the insurance needs of the country. Today hundreds of the best citizens of every state are in contact with the public as representatives of the Stock Companies.

In no other field is the agent entrusted with greater authority.

The Stock Fire Insurance agent has at his command all the facilities of the companies in engineering and research to make life and property safer. He has access to systematic hazard measurements; authentic information about proper building construction; the work of Underwriters' Laboratories in testing materials and devices, and other forms of service for the benefit of the insuring public.

In every community the insurance agents are leaders in civic affairs. They have been faithful factors in the steady reductions that have been made in the average rate charged for fire insurance during the last twenty years.

The local agent is in position to know his client and his client's property. Lyndon, Ohio Farmer Drives In To Praise Hoyt's Compound

SUFFERED FROM RHEUMATISM FOR YEARS; HOYT'S ENDED HIS SUFFERING AFTER EVERYTHING ELSE FAILED.

Mr. Jesse Beath, RFD No. 3, Lyndon, O., is still another widely known resident of this vicinity who is praising the great Hoyt's Compound, which is the great natural mixture on nature's roots and herbs now being introduced daily at Wilder's Phcy. Circleville by the Hoyt man in person.

MR. JESSE BEATH

"I have been a farmer at Lyndon, Ohio, RFD No. 3 for several years," said Mr. Beath. I am 40 years of age and the last few years have been filled with PAIN AND SUFFERING from rheumatism which settled in my hands and arms and the back of my neck and finally grew so painful that I thought I would be unable to stand it. My bowels were very irregular and I never felt like working because of my condition. I tried lots of different medicines without noticeable relief. I read where Hoyt's had helped several people in Chillicothe with whom I was very intimately acquainted and knew that it must be WHAT I NEEDED. I went to Mutchler's Pharmacy and purchased two bottles of Hoyt's and after taking this medicine can truthfully say that I haven't an ACHE OR PAIN in my entire body, I am able to sleep good every night, bowels move regularly and I now enjoy working every day, because I feel good and don't suffer any more with that dreadful rheumatism. Too much praise cannot be given this wonderful medicine. Anyone who suffers should at least give it a trial."

The Hoyt man is in person at Wilder's Drug Store, Circleville every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evening meeting the throngs of health seekers and explaining the merits of Hoyt's Compound to them. Go in and let him tell you about it.

ILL-FITTING SHOES MAY CAUSE FATIGUE

Use Good Sense in Clothing Your Feet, Advises Dr. Copeland, for You Can't Be Efficient or Content Getting About on Cramped, Painful Feet.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Do you ever think about your shoes and the importance of buying the proper kind? As I observe the footwear of some of my friends I am inclined to doubt it. If I may be permitted to say so, I must say the fair women of the race are the great offenders in this matter.

The younger and more attractive the person, the more the clerk in the shoe store is permitted to dictate the choice of shoes. He fits the feet to the shoes. He crowds the poor, harmless, voiceless feet into shoes made for another race and another period of history.

Is this sensible? How much wiser it would be to select shoes that really fit—shoes which are comfortable. The shoes make all the difference between happiness and usefulness on the one side and misery on the other.

In pointing out the common defects in shoes, we find, first, that usually they are too short. The toes are crowded and bent out of shape. In consequence, the ends of the toes are turned down and the "knuckles" of the toes are thrown up, to be rubbed by the shoe. This means that corns will be produced.

I think it must be conceded that the shoes we wear are responsible for the corns and callouses. That is, wrongly fitted and improperly shaped shoes are at fault for these defects.

Too many shoes are painfully narrow. The joints and sides of the toes are pressed upon, so that the deformities of the feet result.

The heels may be too high. There is a reasonable degree of height in heels. We need not condemn all high heels, but certainly those that are two or three inches high may be very damaging.

You are not sensible if you permit the dictates of fashion to eclipse your good sense. Choose your shoes for comfort and wear. Then your feet won't get tired, necessitating a pair of carpet slippers the minute you get into the house. When your shoes are properly fitted there won't be need of shedding them at the first opportunity.

If the feet are cared for and properly shod, there will be remarkably little fatigue at the end of the day. I am sure it is not standing or walking, so much as it is wrong footwear, that is responsible for aching, painful feet. There are certain rules which fill most cases. Of course, they are not universal—some feet are so distinctive that special shoes must be provided.

In general, the inside line of the foot is a straight line. From heel to big toe the line should be straight. The toes must not be pushed and crowded. If you never saw an X-ray of the feet, you have no idea how distorted and twisted the toes may be if the shoes are not right.

Use good sense in clothing your feet. By doing so you may expect to increase your efficiency. It is a real menace to your health to attempt to go ahead with ill-fitting shoes.

BRINGING UP FATHER

I HIRED A MAN TO DIG A WELL IN THE YARD—GET DRESSED—TEN GO OUT AND WATCH HIM—SEE THAT HE DOESN'T LOAF ON THE JOB.

ALL RIGHT, MAGGIE.

WELL, IF IT ISN'T JERRY O'CONNELL! SO IT'S YOU THAT'S DIGGIN' THE WELL. TELL ME, HOW'S YOUR BROTHER DAN?

HE'S OUT.

DO YOU REMEMBER THE TIME HE FELL OFF MY FISH WAGON INTO THE MUD AN' WE THROWN HIM INTO CLANCY'S QUARRY TO CLEAN HIS CLOTHES?

I DO THAT AN' HE STILL HATES WATER.

AN' REMEMBER THE GANG FIGHTS WE USE TO HAVE IN HICKEY'S BRICK YARD AN' THE TIME THE STOVE FELL ON YOU AN' DINTY?

I DO THAT.

OLD DOCTOR TITHILL BROUGHT MR. STEBBINS HOME FROM THE FACTORY WITH A BROKEN LEG—HE IS UPSTAIRS MAKING MR. STEBBINS AS COMFORTABLE AS POSSIBLE UNTIL HE CAN SEE THE X-RAY PICTURES!

MOM SAID FER ME TO STAY DOWN-STAIRS! I WONDER MEBBE DOES SHE NEED ME FER SOMPIN' OR ANYTHIN?

THEY'RE COMIN' DOWN-STAIRS NOW!

THERE'S NOTHING MORE WE CAN DO UNTIL I GET THE X-RAY, THEN I'LL PUT THE CAST ON AND TIME WILL DO THE REST—NOW DON'T WORRY—MRS. STEBBINS—AND EVERYTHING COME OUT ALL RIGHT.

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that.

That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

O. E. S. TO SPONSOR CHANTERS CONCERT

The "Chanters" who compose a chorus of some fifty voices from Columbus, will again make their appearance in Circleville on Tuesday, February 26. The Order of the Eastern Stars is sponsoring this concert and will give a turkey dinner to the members of the chorus following at 7:30 p. m. All members of the Order and their families, are admitted free to the concert.

The "Chanters" will give a variety program of songs which will be most unusual as to quality and selection, and most pleasing to the audience.

Miss Marie Hamilton, the work-matron is especially anxious to have a large audience and she wishes all members to attend. Also she extends a welcome to all non-members, who will be charged but a small amount for admittance.

FORMER RESIDENT IS PRaised IN RECITAL

In the February issue of the Chicago "Music Leader" is an interesting account of a recital given at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. Apart of this account is devoted to the praise of Mrs. Gertrude Hornbeck Coarson, a former resident of Circleville and daughter of the late Mrs. Yates Hornbeck of Circleville.

The story is continued with "The Uptown Conservatory" gave further enjoyment to their audience at this recital by introducing as their guest artist, Mrs. Gertrude Hornbeck Coarson of the Mendelssohn Club of Rockford. Mrs. Coarson's fine voice and sincere delivery roused much appreciation for her interpretations of Brahms' "Morning Wind," Mrs. Beech's "Around the Manger" and Alma Gooley's "A Garden is a Lonesome Thing."

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM AT LADIES' AID

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church in Kingston met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Flora Shoemaker. With 50 members present it was one of the largest meetings held recently.

The members were called to order at 2:30 o'clock by the president, Mrs. Lillian Dreisbach.

After the business session the following splendid program was presented: Reading, "George Washington," by Miss Carrie Umstead; biography, "The Greatest Emancipator," by Mrs. Mae Evans piano solo, "Patriotic Airs," Mrs. C. C. Hatfield; "Origin of St. Valentine Day," Mrs. Will Raub; song "America" by the society; instrumental trio, Lucy Jane Armstrong Ruth Jeanette Rittenour and Isabel Snyder.

The entertainment committee served delicious refreshments of chicken sandwiches, potato chips and olives and coffee.

MOTOR TO COLUMBUS TO SEE OPERAS

Mrs. Jay Wall and Mrs. Mary Morris motored to Columbus on Tuesday in time for dinner at the Dehler-Wallick. Later they attended "Thais," the second performance of the Chicago Grand Opera Company at the Columbus Auditorium. On Wednesday night Mrs. Wall was a dinner guest and attended the opera "Carmen" with a party of friends from Columbus.

SEE "CARMEN" ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Miss Elma Rains, Miss Delma Watson and Miss Iris Fierco, teachers in the Circleville schools, were numbered among those who attended "Carmen" at the Columbus Auditorium Wednesday night.

1776 SCORE APPROPRIATE AT BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Sterling Lamb used George Washington tallies and favors Wednesday night when she entertained the members of her bridge club at her home on S. Court-st. The elaborate refreshments were also served with a color scheme of red, white and blue.

Among the guests was one particular patriotic player, Miss Peggy Parks, who emphasized a true colonial spirit by adding up her score and finding it to be 1776. On this occasion, no bridge score could have been more appropriate. On her life and drum record, Miss Parks was presented the second prize, while the award for the highest score was won by Mrs. Ford Pickens.

MOTION PICTURES AT HUNSICKER RESIDENCE

A three reel motion picture of the George Rogers Clark expedition was shown Thursday in the public schools of Circleville. The history and text books of the expedition are being promoted and advocated by the Daughters of the American Revolution, in the United States. The history of the expedition is being studied more widely recently in schools and text books on the subject have been introduced in the schools of Indiana through the state legislation.

The subject of the picture is particularly interesting at the present time, and there may be many who would enjoy seeing it. A members of the D. A. R. an everyone who is interested in this history, may see the pictures at 7 o'clock Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hunsicker on W. Union-st. Miss Ruth Stout, a teacher at the Franklin-st. school building will show the pictures in the evening.

Cleveland and Pittsburgh Cleveland, Ohio, is named for Moses Cleveland, the founder of the city, but the extra "a" has been eliminated. Pittsburgh honors the name of William Pitt. Its first name was Duquesne, given by the French, who had located a fort at the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. After its capture by the English, in 1758, George Washington, then an officer of the British colonial troops, suggested that it be named Pittsburgh.
